

योग: कर्मसु कौशलम्
IN PURSUIT OF PERFECTION

Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies Vivekananda School of Information Technology

Innovation Day

Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, also known as ‘Missile Man’ was a pioneer and his contribution as scientist and science administrator in nations’ civilian space program and military missile development efforts were well recognised. He once quoted “Educationists should build the capacities of the spirit of inquiry, creativity, entrepreneurial and moral leadership among students and become their role model”. Adhering to his thought, Vivekananda School of Information Technology formed Institute Innovation Council on his birthday i.e., 15th October 2019.

The event started with a lamp lighting ceremony followed by the Saraswati Vandana. The eminent personalities, Dr. K. Elangovan, Assistant Director, Innovation Cell, Ministry of Human Resource and Development, Guest Dr. W. Selvamurthy (Vice Chancellor Amity University, Chhattisgarh, Former Distinguished Scientist and Chief Controller R&D(LS), Delhi Research and Development Organization, Dr. Vikram Goyal (Head, Department of Computer Science, IIIT Delhi and Invite Sh. Navin Gulia (Ex-Army Officer turned Social Worker, Founder of Apni Duniya, Apna Ashiana) were introduced and felicitated.

Glimpses of Dr. Kalam’s journey were beautifully framed by the student in the form of small documentary. The guests also witnessed the innovative ideas and research made by our students shown in the form of PowerPoint presentations. Mr. Suneet Vats, Vice-Chairman, VIPS addressed the audience providing an insight about the objective and need of Innovative Council and how it can bring a valuable change in the life of young and budding professionals. He welcomed all the dignitaries and acknowledged them for taking out their valuable time for enlightening the students and fraternity the ways that could help them in achieving their future goals.

योग: कर्मसु कौशलम्
IN PURSUIT OF PERFECTION

Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies Vivekananda School of Information Technology

The Institute Innovation Council was inaugurated digitally by Dr. K. Elangovan. In his address, he told the importance of such a council at the preliminary level of education. He appreciated the efforts of the institute and provided the details of various projects, grants and opportunities that the government is also extending for various innovative ideas and startups.

Dr. Vikram Goyal, Professor IIIT Delhi shared his experiences with varied instances of projects developed under his guidance and how his students succeeded to improve the quality and productivity of work in various domains. The students were enlightened with various ideas that the industry is looking out and also the ways to grab the attention of job-providers.

Dr. W. Selvamurthy, chief guest for the occasion, with his vast, enormous and rich experience left the audience spell-bound giving them a world where even a small action could become a great idea if implemented with a robust plan. Being an acquaintance of Dr. Kalam, he shared many instances of his conversations and projects handled together and how Kalam used to motivate people around him.

Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies Vivekananda School of Information Technology

Sh. Navin Gulia, an inspirational and social worker was the show stopper of the event.

He delivered his speech and motivated the students in the same psychology as of a student. His words were very near to ground realities of life and every person in the audience could relate itself with one or the other instance occurred sometime somewhere in their life.

Prof. Siddharth Mishra, Chairperson VSIT concluded the event with the Vote of Thanks. He on behalf of the entire department and the management extended his gratitude towards the eminent dignitaries for sharing their immense knowledge and providing a platform for the students where they can present and further get recognition for their innovations and research.

